OFFICE OF THE MINISTER FOR FINANCE AND INDUSTRIES.

57

His Highness the Maharaja has been suffering from an attack of influenza for the last few days. Though the temperature today has come down (and is now about 100°) and ~~there is no cause~~ for there is no cause for anxiety in this regard, His Highness is feeling extremely weak and his Medical advisers are of opinion that His Highness should remain in bed for at least a fortnight after the fever comes down to normal

Under the circumstances it is very much regretted that the Durbars and other festivities connected with His Highness's Birthday on the 4th August have had to be cancelled.

The Resident may issue an advertisement

Dear Sir,

His Highness the Maharaja has been suffering from an attack of influenza for the past few days. He still has slight temperature, but there is no cause for anxiety in this regard. He has been medically advised to remain in bed for at least a week. In view of His Highness's indisposition, the Durbars and other festivities in connection with His Highness's Birthday on the 4th August 1950 have had to be cancelled.

Yours faithfully,

H. N. PALLEGAR
